Sunday Services | June 2024

June 2 | Claiming Queer Joy

Joy for the sake of it. Joy in the face of ongoing threats to life. Joy that is expansive. Joy that is disruptive. Joy that boldly proclaims, "This is who I am and I am here." How can we heed the lessons of queer joy? How do we all claim it?
— Rev. Lane-Mairead Campbell

June 9 | All this Joy, All this Sorrow

One cannot have joy without also knowing sorrow. As we sit with the many heartbreaking aspects of our world these days, we are called to hold it all—the ups and the downs. How does despair inform joy? How can we honor both?
— Rev. Lane-Mairead Campbell

June 16 | Community Calls Us Towards Joy

First Universalist's annual Flower Communion service—please bring one flower for every member of your house for this important ritual celebration of community. The vase represents the community that is holding all of us—not just as individuals, but as a collective. Joy is one thread in the fabric we are weaving together, holding our common vase to nourish our roots.
— Rev. Lane-Mairead Campbell

June 23 | Jubilee Day: A Juneteenth Service Service at First Unitarian

First Universalist will be joining First Unitarian in-person and online for a celebration of Juneteenth, led by Rev. Verdis Robinson. On June 17, 2021, President Biden signed a bill creating the federal holiday now known as Juneteenth. Join us in this BIPOC-led service reflecting on the meanings of freedom, especially for our incarcerated siblings.
— Rev. Verdis LeVar Robinson

June 30 | Weaving Our Lives First summer service at 10am

Join us for the G.A. Sunday worship service. "We are all tangled up together in a great web of life that is woven with beauty and hardship, love and loss, thriving and struggle. How do we tend well to the weaving so that all of us are held in care?" This service will be streamed in the Sanctuary and online.
— Rev. Molly Housh-Gordon

❖ Services begin at 10:30am unless noted otherwise ❖

Worship will be online and in-person at First Universalist Church. Check our website for more updated info! Please join us – Zoom link: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/131764422>; Phone number: 1-646-558-8656 with Meeting ID: 131 764 422. ❖

High-Connection Time

*A Message from
Rev. Lane-Mairead Campbell*

In this season, there have been so many moments when I have felt overwhelmed by the state of the world. I imagine you have felt like this—haven't you? So much is going on. We are witnessing an election cycle that is so very distressing. We are watching wars happening all over the world in real time, in ways that we could not before. Our climate is suffering. The longterm health effect of the COVID pandemic are still active. It is a lot. And it is a lot for us, especially as individuals.

I am finding comfort in my relationships now more than ever. In the spaces where I can find connection, in the places where I belong. I am finding comfort in spiritual practices that encourage me to sit with my discomfort, to give voice to it, to move through it. Journaling, meditation, prayer, walks, communal worship, gardening—whatever it is that we can do to build our capacity to sit with it all. Our relationships to one another, to the earth, and to spirit are so important in these moments.

As we worship together throughout the month of June, I want to invite us into some high-connection time. This means a focus on spiritual practices and a little less time on the sermon. It means providing us with opportunities to have conversations with one another in worship. Starting next month (July), First Universalist will begin hosting an in-person small group ministry on the second and fourth Sunday of the month after service to share what the topic of the day's worship service means in our lives—something our online community has been engaged in each Sunday. I hope you will find time and space to connect with one another and to connect to spirit in this season. Let none of us live through these times alone.

In Faith and Courage,
Rev. Lane-Mairead ❖

Unabashed Joy in Belonging

*A Message from
Rev. Michelle Yates*

I used to strongly identify as a Catholic. I wore a metal scapular at all times. In high school, when it became clear to me that my faith no longer fit into the theology of the larger Catholic Church, I felt heartbroken and lost. I didn't know who I was anymore. Who were "my people" as far as a faith community?

Thankfully going to a UU church with my mother was a safe place to figure it out. I had attended UU services with her for years. I was asked to be a youth group advisor, and confessed I wasn't sure what it meant to be a UU. They assured me that was okay, and I could figure it out alongside the youth.

There were the day-to-day Sunday gatherings where we cared for each other, but it was going to youth conferences, connecting with other young adult advisors, and in large scale youth worship that it came together for me. Feeling connected to a larger movement and seeing the threads of faith connected was where I came to feel that I was a Unitarian Universalist. This was where I belonged; these were my people for exploring and acting in faith. To this day and everyday, this brings me JOY!

Because of this I will ALWAYS encourage people to go to larger UU gatherings: leadership assemblies, regional trainings, activism, G.A., camps, etc.

I am so excited to create the kind of "belonging magic" I feel at G.A. at our Rochester G.A. Watch Parties at the end of June! See more details in this issue of the Outlook.

I am doubly excited to go to Unirondack with one of our families to share a touch-point faith moment in belonging and UU identity with children and parents, and start an annual tradition for our families here at First Universalist!

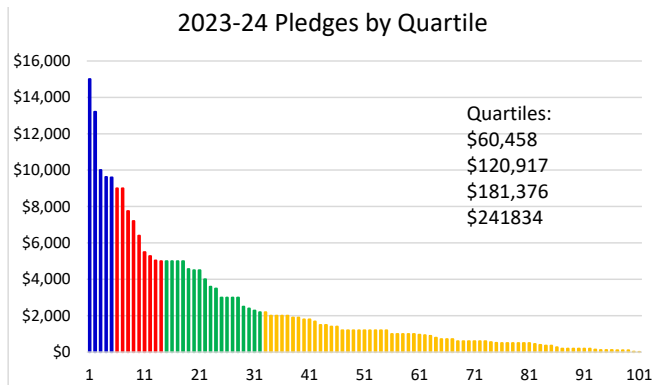

Sometimes the "mountain top" experience comes to where we are, and sometimes part of the magic is going to the "mountain top" ourselves. Either way, we don't go alone.

Wishing you Joy and Belonging in your Journey,
Rev. Michelle ❖

Finance News: It Takes All Kinds of Pledges!

Submitted by Ann Rhody, Finance Chair

When the Stewardship Team met with the congregation on March 24, we shared some slides, charts, and information. The feedback indicated that this one chart, showing the range of pledge amounts supporting the church, was very helpful! Along the left side are the pledge amounts; the bottom shows the number of pledges.

Our congregation is made up of folks who have a range of financial circumstances: some happily retired and comfortable, others experiencing some of life's hard knocks, and some who are doing all right, but have limited "discretionary income."

For most folks, there is SOME room for a financial pledge to the church. A pledge of $50 per year is like putting a dollar in the plate each week. Some people (you can tell how many by looking at the chart) are able to give many thousands of dollars. Most of us fall somewhere in between.

EACH PLEDGE MATTERS! It makes clear to the church that there is wide support for our mission, whatever the financial amount may be. Some folks may think that they can't make a pledge large enough to make a difference, but it DOES make a difference. YOU belong somewhere on this chart!

Thanks to all who pledge support to the church! If you haven't made a pledge for 2024-25, please head to uuroc.org and click on "Stewardship." ❖

Annual Congregational Meeting: Sunday, June 2!

Submitted by Rev. Lane-Mairead Campbell

Our Annual Congregational Meeting will be on Sunday, June 2 after the service. This provides us the opportunity to live into our 5th Principle: The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large.

Again, this year we will have a hybrid meeting to include everyone either online or in person. We meet each year to approve our budget and appoint our leaders. Full participation of our membership is important! Childcare will be provided. ❖

Church Picnic: June 16

Submitted by Karl Abbott

The church picnic will be held on Sunday June 16, from 1-4pm. The location is the Longhouse Shelter in Seneca Park (it is handicapped accessible, with bathrooms nearby). A map will be posted in church. If you need a map or directions, contact Karl Abbott.

Bring a dish to pass along with a list of ingredients for those who have food allergies (note: please don't make any dishes containing nuts, or bring nuts). Also, bring something to grill, along with something to hold what you grilled, and a beverage of your liking. The church will provide:

- Paper plates, plastic utensils, cups, napkins, and serving utensils
- Bottled water
- Condiments
- A charcoal fire (aluminum foil will be available for vegetarian / vegan grilling) Some grilling tools will be available

Please note that this will be the last year Karl will be organizing the picnic. If you wish to do the future picnic organizing contact Karl Abbott. Karl will be happy to assist the new organizing person(s) in learning what to do. ❖

Drop-In Discussion

Submitted by John Lukes

Drop-in discussions are held Tuesday evenings from 6:30-7:30pm via the church Zoom account, and in-person on the first Sunday of each month in the Chalice Room at 9:15am. Phil Ebersole is the contact for in-person discussions. Contact DropInDiscussion@uuroc.org for the link, or look on uuroc.org!

Sunday, June 2 | Open Planning Forum In-Person

We'll discuss topics for coming meetings, whether or not to continue the in-church meetings through the summer and anything else that might be on our minds. Led by Phil Ebersole.

June 4 | Death and Dying

Guest presenter Professor Daniel Chadwick returns to discuss these two weighty topics. He will briefly touch on each of six philosophical approaches to these topics: Metaphysics (the reality), Epistemology (what is known), Ethics, Philosophy of Religion questions, Logic, and Aesthetics. Using these as a lens to scrutinize how we think about death/dying may open up other ways for us to understand this field of investigation.

June 11 | Unabashed Joy

Let's take time to focus on the "unabashed" part of our monthly theme and to share experiences of joy. Rev. Lane-Mairead will lead us in an exploration of what joy really means to us.

June 18 | Failure in Ukraine

In February, 2022, we were told that our government would not only foil Russian aggression by arming Ukraine, but bring Russia to its knees by means of economic sanctions. Phil Ebersole will do a presentation and lead a discussion on how that is working out.

June 25 | Open Topic Nite

In response to continued support, let's have another Open Topic discussion. John Lukes leads.

Have a topic for us? Contact our team with your proposal at DropInDiscussion@uuroc.org. ❖

Join the New MOCHA!

Submitted by MJ Curry

As we thank Nancy Gaede and Karl Abbott for their phenomenal coordinating/leading of the Ministry of the Coffee Hour (MOCHA), I have put myself forward to become the next coordinator. MOCHA is an important ministry of UUROC, as it's the one time during the week that everyone can socialize, celebrate events and milestones, and welcome visitors. I'd like to take MOCHA forward by expanding the pool of volunteers who set out the refreshments and clean up after the Sunday service, so that the rotation would cover more people and thus reduce the frequency of service from volunteers, who contribute in many other ways to the congregation.

A brief explanation of how MOCHA works—and will continue to work: refreshments are provided in the kitchen, so volunteers do not need to shop (and submit receipts, as we did before the pandemic). The big dishwasher works and we can provide training on it. The time commitment is about an hour before and an hour after the Sunday service (in the summer, a more modest snack spread is put out).

In terms of what MOCHA provides, I plan to experiment with simplifying what's provided, still having a variety of food categories but with less variation within them, so less to put out and clean up (and I am open to suggestions). More funding for MOCHA has been put into the proposed annual budget to be considered at the Congregational Meeting on June 2.

Albert has generally been able to make the coffee/decaf, though he's out on disability for a couple of months. Even if volunteers have to make it, it's fairly straightforward in the coffee maker.

I hope to recruit as many people as possible, so that each volunteer/team would serve only once every 8-10 weeks. In general, two volunteers have teamed up, and I will help pair up volunteers if needed. There will be no pressure to sign up for more Sundays than you want to. In a worst case, we won't have a MOCHA on a particular Sunday.

If you're able to be part of this approach to MOCHA, please email mocha@uuroc.org. The more, the merrier! ❖

House News: Many Hands = Productive Spring Work Day!

Submitted by Ed Deller, House Committee Chair

A dedicated crew of members and friends gathered on May 4 for our annual Spring Work Day. We prepared the church for warmer weather by installing window screens, installing the nursery air conditioner and connecting garden hoses. We spruced up the church with deep cleaning of many areas. Smoke alarms and emergency lighting were checked, plumbing and electrical repairs were made and various other projects accomplished for church safety and aesthetics.

Thank you to Tom Ruganis, Brian Mumey, Michael Scott, Newcomb Losh, Kitty Forbush, Karen Dau, Grant Fish, Shirley Bond, Howard Spindler, Heather and Bill Jones, Moritz Wagner, Sarah Singal, and Dwight Montague for their talents and good work in support of our sacred space.

Special thanks to Michael Scott for installing the automatic door opener between the sanctuary and the restroom landing area.

A variety of building projects will be tackled over the summer. If you'd like to join in, contact Ed Deller, house@uuroc.org. ❖

Social Justice Plate: June

Submitted by Joy Leccese

Our June Social Justice Plate Offering is designated for The Worker Justice Center of New York. They were created in 2011 through the merger of Farmworker Legal Service of NY (est. 1981) and the Workers' Rights Law Center (est. 2003). FLSNY also created nationally recognized projects aimed at reducing domestic violence and human trafficking in the agricultural community. Since then, they have represented migrant and seasonal workers in civil matters throughout New York State. Please consider a generous donation to their valuable work. For more info, visit wjcn.org. ❖

Used Book Sale, June 9

Submitted by Marcy Klein, for the Library Committee

The library will have one more Super Sale, on Sunday, June 9, during Coffee Hour after the service. Once again, you will be able to buy a bag of used books for only $1.00 (Bags will be provided.) Check out the newest donations and stock up on reading material for the summer!

We will no longer be collecting or selling used books after June 9. You can still bring used books and place them in the church's Little Free Library near the Clinton entrances. Sometimes there will be used books in our "Free Books" box by the ramp; take any of these for yourself or your favorite Little Free Library.

During the sale, you can also buy some new UU-themed books, located in the freestanding bookcase—they will be for sale at half the list price, as always. These will continue to be available whenever the library is open, usually the first Sunday of the month.

Don't forget to take a look at our Gender Studies display on the bookcases behind the library desk. You'll find about a dozen books that focus on gender issues, especially the experiences of gays and lesbians and their families. You can borrow any of these books, or any other book in the collection, for four weeks. If the library is not staffed, refer to the instructions taped to the library desk; they explain the process for checking out and returning a book.

This is Phil Ebersole's last month on the Library Committee, as he retires after more than 40 years of building up and tending our wonderful library collection. We will all miss his dedication, hard work, and terrific ideas, but expect he will continue to be a wonderful resource when we have the inevitable questions. Thank you, Phil! ❖

Drop-In Small Group Ministry: 2nd & 4th Sundays

Submitted by Rev. Lane-Mairead Campbell

Starting July 14, First Universalist will be hosting a small group ministry on the second and fourth Sunday of every month following the service, to discuss how the topic of the worship service has an impact on your life. All are welcome—this opportunity is for anyone who would like to drop in and connect with others. Drop-In Small Group Ministry will happen in the Chalice Room on July 14, July 28, August 11, and August 25 at 11:15am. ❖

Bi-Monthly Leadership Assembly: July 11

Submitted by Rev. Lane-Mairead Campbell

If you are a leader at First Universalist or if you would like to become a leader, join us for our bi-monthly Leadership Assembly Thursday, July 11, at 7pm. This month, leaders will be talking about how to collaborate and communicate effectively with one another as well as new initiatives to grow the membership of First Universalist. Our leaders are encouraged to communicate with one another and to get on the same page about initiatives, goals, and priorities. These important conversations and collaborative spaces will happen every other month from 7-8:30pm in the Chalice Room and online. Zoom Link: tinyurl.com/4vbxhj7p. ❖

F.I.R.E. News

Submitted by Elizabeth Osta

F.I.R.E. (First Universalist Initiative for Racial Equality) held a successful neighborhood tour on May 4 led by Emily Morry, library assistant, who has deep knowledge of city history and justice issues.

Our commitment to racial equity, like so many things of importance, is longstanding and continues to undergird so many of our activities.

The recent book by Justin Murphy, Your Children Are Very Greatly in Danger: School Segregation in Rochester, New York by Cornell University Press, recently reviewed by our book club, is one example. Even if you are unable to attend the book club, the book is so worth reading and remembering the history of Rochester that brings us to this day.

As with the book, Strike the Hammer, by Laura Hill Warren, we learn about the past so we can inform the future.

Our connection with SPARC and the Minister Franklin D. Florence Civil Right Park reminds us that great things are often accomplished, not in short bursts but rather in long strides.

Thanks to so many of you who continue to lift up events and ideas to be explored. We'll continue with such support to be a part of this conversation for as long as it takes.

Juneteenth continues to be a worthwhile way to have “boots on the ground”, by participating in a walk/run in the park that benefits the MFCRP.

EcoJustice: RAICA

Submitted by Sarah Singal

RAICA stands for Rochester Area Interfaith Climate Action. Their May newsletter has an action we can all relate to: Seneca Lake Guardian is fighting the proposed expansion of the Seneca Meadows Landfill. They are asking for two quick calls to urge the leaders of the New York State Legislature to pass the Packaging Reduction & Recycling Infrastructure Act, a critical bill that would make polluters pay, cut wasteful and polluting single-use plastic packaging by a whopping 50%, and cut climate-warming emissions in our state. Passage of this bill would go a long way toward eliminating the need for the Seneca Meadows Landfill to stay open for another 15 years. Go to tinyurl.com/3huc834p to get involved!

If you would like to get a monthly RAICA newsletter with 3 or 4 items of interest to the faith climate community, go to raica.net and follow the prompts to become a member. No fee, no obligations.

The June meeting of EcoJustice Group will be Sunday, June 9, back of Sanctuary, after 10 minutes of coffee hour. All are welcome. This is moved from first to second Sunday because of conflict with the Annual Meeting. ❖

PRIDE Parade Changes!

Submitted by Connie Valk

FLASH! This year the Pride Parade is not on Park Ave. Instead, the line-up will be on Science Parkway. The Parade will start at 11am at the intersection of South Ave and Science Parkway and travel north on South Ave, ending at Highland Park.

We have no info yet about where marchers and parade-watches can park. Stay tuned for more info in the Summer Outlook! ❖

General Assembly 2024 June 19 - 23: All Online, Church Watch Parties!

Submitted by Rev. Michelle Yates

General Assembly for the Unitarian Universalist Association of Congregations is all online this year, which means: our Rochester-area Unitarian Universalist Congregations will be hosting watch parties! Come, gather with UU friends from Rochester to see what the larger denomination is voting on and talking about!

The “General Sessions” are when we do the business of our association. The big business item this year is the revisioning of Article II of the Bylaws. They really work to make these sessions interesting, engaging and moving forward. It's the best business meeting you will ever attend!

We plan to host Potluck Dinners each day. We invite you to bring a side, salad or dessert. The host church will provide main dishes which will include vegan/gf & vegetarian options.

These sessions are available to everyone without registering for the extra content which includes workshops, worships, keynote speakers, etc. If you would like to attend a Watch Party Session and Potluck, reach out to Rev. Michelle at edu@uuroc.org so you can be on our list for reminders and updates.

If you ARE interested in registering for the extended GA content and have questions, contact Rev. Michelle and check out uua.org/ga. ❖

Housing For All: Scruffy Saint Leaves Legacy of Love

Submitted by Lois Baum

Michael Gill led by examples of kindness. “He never had much, but would give you everything he had. Beloved by all who knew him, you were a friend before he even met you,” says daughter Casi Barend. Many UURoc members knew and worked with him advocating for Rochester's homeless community.

Michael died unexpectedly in his home at age 68 (8/21/55 - 5/7/24).

A father and a grandfather, he spent his career as a security guard at SOTA, a friend to the students.

In 2014, Michael was outraged when the city bulldozed a homeless encampment under the Anthony-Douglass Bridge. He joined other concerned citizens (like Greg and me) who immediately formed REACH (Rochester Engaging in Action for the Chronically Homeless). Thus began Gill's direct involvement with the city's unhoused population. Enlisting willing friends, Michael began his own street outreach, direct action, "taking hot meals into city parks and homeless encampments, calling it 'potluck in the park'," said Amy D'Amico.

“In 2018, Michael was instrumental in advocating for a city-sanctioned encampment called 'Peace Village'"(near Nick Tahou's on W. Main). He slept in his own tent at Peace Village in its early days, “not because he didn't have his own home, but to keep order and mediate any conflict from the city if things went awry,” states Kayla Canne. He also assisted PCHO co-founder Nick Coulter in teaching “Homeless 101” classes to the empathetic public. In 2020, Michael's grassroots efforts were rewarded with the ESL Jefferson Award.

“A lot of people say they should [go to a shelter], but they don't ... so let's keep them alive”, he would say. He believed in helping people as they were, on their own path. He continued to devote the last years of his life giving voice to those who are usually ignored, volunteering with REACH, PCHO (Person-Centered Housing Options), House of Mercy, and RAW (Recovery All Ways). For a few years, Michael was consistently, reliably present at Motel 6 (Chili Ave), where homeless folks, including mothers and children, were being temporarily housed. Every evening, Michael would oversee home-cooked meals. Many members of our church worked alongside Michael through these local nonprofits.

This remarkable homeless advocate was also a music enthusiast. With shaggy clothes and a long scraggly beard, this Scruffy Saint was known to attend every nationwide music festival he could, befriending members of the bands behind the scenes. To quote his children, he was “always a dad to strangers, he became known as "Grateful Dad". He often quoted a line from the Allman Brothers' “Blue Sky”:

“The river just keeps on flowing, it don't worry about where it's going”

Michael gave so much of himself to advocate for and directly help our local homeless community. I would turn to him for guidance and clarity on issues around homelessness. He never once let me down, taking the time to address every concern.

When I chaired Homeless Heartbeats at First Universalist, every year, I invited him to join social workers in this field to come speak at our church (Andy Carey, Nick Coulter and more).

Michael ran a Facebook page called “Homes 4 the Homeless”. He also designed a t-shirt with a man leaning down to address a homeless man sitting on the sidewalk, finding himself looking into a mirror. Michael sold these to benefit PCHO.

Though we are heartbroken, there's still a comforting satisfaction just to have known Michael Gill. Those of us who worked with him are grateful for the example he set.

On June 16 there will be a “Grateful Dad” celebration of Michael at MLK Park. All are welcome. Details TBA.
